Several days ago the particulars of a mos revolting affair came to our knowledge, but so timulatural and disgusting were the detail that we could not credit them. Yesterdays however, they were repeated to us, and so presume there is not the least doubt of their truth. We state briefly as follows:

Some months ago a well-to do and very respectable farmer, living about one mile north of Lanesville, Harrison county, hired, say farm hand, a negro. The farmer had a daughter some eighteen or nucleen years of age and between her and the negro a warm friend ship sprung up, which soon ripened into a most unnatural and criminal minnery.

As long as it was possible for her to do so the girl concessed the evidence of her shament would soon be impossible, she went to be father and fold him that she would in a short time become a mother, and that hinded man, the negro, was the father of the illectimate offapring she expected to give sirth to.
